The Wedgewood Fund (the "Wedgewood Fund" or the "Fund") seeks long-term capital appreciation through investments primarily in securities of large-cap companies.

Fees and Expenses of the Fund

This table describes the fees and expenses that you may pay if you buy, hold and sell shares of the Fund. The Fund does not charge any fees paid directly from your investment (including those commonly described as Load or Sales Charges). You may, however, be required to pay commissions and/or other forms of compensation to a broker for transactions in Institutional Class Shares or Retail Class Shares, which are not reflected in the tables or the examples below. Shares of the Fund are available in other share classes that have different fees and expenses.

1 Estimate based on current asset levels for the Retail Class Shares and Institutional Class Shares.

2 Other Expenses, which include administration, transfer agency and custodian fees, is an estimate based on current asset levels for the Retail Class Shares and Institutional Class Shares. Other Expenses for the Class C Shares are based on the estimated Other Expenses of the Institutional Class Shares.

3 The Adviser has agreed contractually to waive its fees and to reimburse expenses of the Fund, including expenses associated with the Fund's shareholder services plan and administrative services plan, to the extent necessary to ensure that operating expenses (including all organization and offering expenses, but excluding interest, brokerage commissions, dividends on short sales and interest expense on securities sold short, acquired fund fees and expenses and extraordinary expenses) do not exceed, on an annual basis, 1.25% for the Retail Class Shares, 1.00% for the Institutional Class Shares and 2.00% for the Class C Shares of the Fund's average net assets. This agreement is in effect until at least January 31, 2025, and, subject to annual approval by the Board of Trustees of RiverPark Funds Trust, this arrangement will remain in effect unless and until the Board of Trustees approves its modification or termination or the Adviser notifies the Fund at least 30 days prior to the annual approval of its determination not to continue the agreement. This agreement may be terminated with 90 days' notice by a majority of the independent members of the Board or a majority of the Fund's outstanding shares. The Fund has agreed to repay the Adviser in the amount of any fees waived and Fund expenses reimbursed, subject to certain limitations that: (1) the repayment is made only for fees waived or expenses reimbursed not more than three years prior to the date of repayment; and (2) the repayment may not be made if it would cause the Fund's operating expenses to exceed the lesser of: (a) the annual expense limitation in effect at the time of the fee waiver or expense reimbursement or (b) the annual expense limitation in effect at the time of the repayment.

Example

This example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and that the Fund's operating expenses remain the same. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions, your costs would be:

	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Retail	$ 127	$ 416	$ 725	$ 1,605
Institutional	$ 102	$ 338	$ 592	$ 1,321
Class C	$ 203	$ 646	$ 1,115	$ 2,414

Portfolio Turnover

The Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or "turns over" its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual Fund operating expenses or in the example, affect the Fund's performance. During the fiscal year ended September 30, 2023, the Fund's portfolio turnover rate was 15% of the average value of its portfolio.

Principal Investment Strategies

The Wedgewood Fund seeks long-term capital appreciation by investing at least 80% of its net assets (plus the amount of any borrowings for investment purposes) in equity securities of large capitalization companies that Wedgewood Partners, Inc., the Fund's sub-adviser ("Wedgewood"), believes have above-average growth prospects. The Fund invests primarily in common stocks. The Fund considers companies with market capitalizations in excess of $5 billion to be large capitalization companies. The Fund is non-diversified and invests in a limited number of companies, generally holding securities of between 19 and 21 companies. The Fund invests primarily in the securities of U.S. companies, but it may also invest outside of the U.S.

Wedgewood seeks investments in market leaders with dominant products or services that are irreplaceable or lack substitutes in today's economy. Wedgewood invests for the long-term, and expects to hold securities, in many cases, for more than five years.

Wedgewood's investment process involves rigorous qualitative and quantitative inputs as well as a strict valuation and risk discipline. Wedgewood's quantitative process seeks to differentiate among the 500-600 largest companies to separate those which exhibit factors such as above-average returns on equity, returns on capital, cash flow returns on investment, earnings per share growth and revenue growth. The qualitative process then focuses on the sustainability of the company's business model with particular emphasis on barriers to entry, competition and relative buyer/supplier leverage. Wedgewood next uses a valuation model to forecast future performance for sales, earnings and financial position to create absolute valuation projections for the company's intrinsic value seeking to invest in a focused (19-21 securities) portfolio of its highest conviction ideas. Positions are reduced or eliminated from the portfolio over time when long-term growth rates fall below Wedgewood's expectations, a superior opportunity becomes available and/or appreciation results in an excessively large holding in the portfolio.

Principal Risks

The Fund is subject to a number of risks that may affect the value of its shares and cause you to lose money, including the risks listed below. Each risk summarized below is a principal risk of investing in the Fund, and different risks may be more significant at different times depending upon market conditions or other factors.

Equity Securities Risks. The Fund invests primarily in equity securities. Although investments in equity securities, such as stocks, historically have been a leading choice for long-term investors, the values of stocks rise and fall depending on many factors. The stock or other security of a company may not perform as well as expected, and may decrease in value, because of factors related to the company (such as poorer than expected earnings or certain management decisions) or to the industry in which the company is engaged (such as a reduction in the demand for products or services in a particular industry). Market and economic factors may adversely affect securities markets generally, which could in turn adversely affect the value of the Fund investments, regardless of the performance or expected performance of companies in which the Fund invests.

Market Risk. Because the Fund invests a substantial portion of its assets in common stocks, it is subject to stock market risk. Market risk involves the possibility that the value of the Fund's investments in stocks will decline due to drops in the stock market. In general, the value of the Fund will move in the same direction as the overall stock market in which the Fund invests, which will vary from day to day in response to the activities of individual companies, as well as general market, regulatory, political and economic conditions.

Large Cap Company Risk. Because the Fund invests primarily in large cap company securities, the Fund may underperform other funds during periods when large cap securities are out of favor. Large cap company stocks tend to go through cycles of doing better—or worse—than other segments of the stock market or the stock market in general. These periods have, in the past, lasted for as long as several years.

Foreign Securities Risk. The Fund may invest in foreign securities, including direct investments in securities of foreign issuers and investments in depositary receipts (such as ADRs) that represent indirect interests in securities of foreign issuers. These investments involve certain risks not generally associated with investments in securities of U.S. issuers. Public information available concerning foreign issuers may be more limited than would be with respect to domestic issuers. Different accounting standards may be used by foreign issuers, and foreign trading markets may not be as liquid as U.S. markets. Foreign securities also involve such risks as currency fluctuation risk, delays in transaction settlements, possible imposition of withholding or confiscatory taxes, possible currency transfer restrictions, and the difficulty of enforcing obligations in other countries. With any investment in foreign securities, there exist certain economic, political and social risks, including the risk of adverse political developments, nationalization, confiscation without fair compensation and war.

Growth Stock Risk. The Fund invests in growth stocks. Growth stocks are subject to the risk that their growth prospects and/or expectations will not be fulfilled, which could result in a substantial decline in their value and adversely impact the Fund's performance. When growth investing is out of favor, the Fund's share price may decline even though the companies the Fund holds have sound fundamentals. Growth stocks may also experience higher than average volatility.

Information Technology Risk. The Information Technology sector is an important sector for growth-oriented strategies and thus may represent a large percentage of the investments of the Fund. The sector includes a number of important industries such as software & services, hardware & equipment, and semiconductors. Investments in Information Technology are potentially riskier than investments in more mature industries because the nature of technology is that it is rapidly changing. Therefore, products or services that may initially look promising may subsequently fail or become obsolete and barriers to entry are difficult to determine. Additionally, valuations are often higher, and price movements may be more volatile.

Management Risk. Management risk means that the sub-adviser's security selections and other investment decisions might produce losses or cause the Fund to underperform when compared to other funds with similar investment goals.

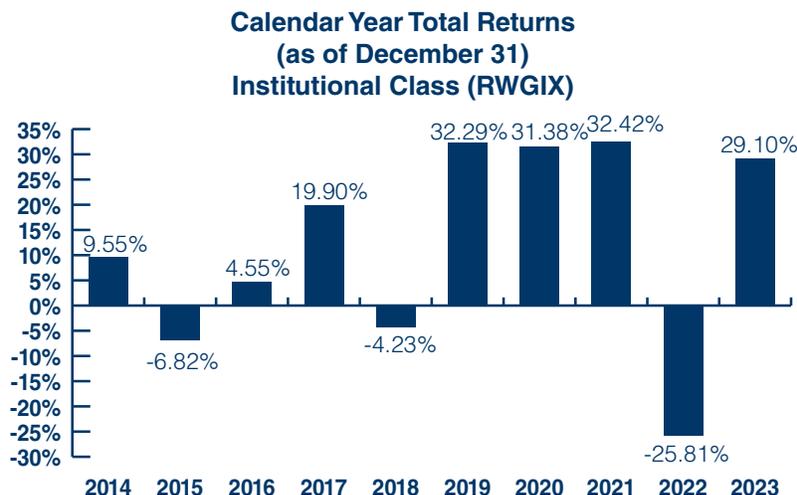

Non-Diversified Portfolio Risk. The Fund is non-diversified, which means that its portfolio will be invested in a relatively small number of securities. As a result, the appreciation or depreciation of any one security held by the Fund will have a greater impact on the Fund's net asset value than it would if the Fund invested in a larger number of securities.

Geopolitical and Health Crisis Risks. Geopolitical events and health crises, including pandemics, war, terrorism, trade disputes, government shutdowns, market closures, natural and environmental disasters, and other public health crises and related events and governments' reactions to such events have led, and in the future may lead, to economic uncertainty, decreased economic activity, increased market volatility and other disruptive effects on U.S. and global economies and markets. The increasing interconnectedness of markets around the world may result in many markets being affected by such events even if they occur in a single country or region. Such events may have significant adverse direct or indirect effects on the Fund and its investments. A health crisis may also exacerbate other pre-existing risks. The COVID-19 global pandemic and related shutdowns have caused, and could cause in the future, substantial market volatility and exchange trading suspensions and closures, affecting both the liquidity and the volatility of the Fund's investments.

See "Description of Principal Risks" beginning on page 44 of the Prospectus for a discussion of each of these risks.
